A Right Newsy Bit of Gossip
From That Region.

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—Yesterday there arrived in this city three detectives from Marshall, Ill., in search of the murderers of George T. Powell, the railroad agent who was assassinated last Saturday night at Marshall, Ill. With the aid of the chief of police they arrested three men whom they identified as those suspected of the murder.

Late yesterday afternoon the Howard county bank at Glasgow, closed its doors and placed its business in the hands of a trustee for the benefit of its creditors. The president says the assets are ample to pay all depositors and stockholders in full.

To-day a train of ten coaches came to Los Vegas from the south, bearing Chiricahua and Warm Spring Apaches from the San Carlos reservation in Arizona, to Florida. There were 400 of the savages guarded by three companies of troops. More than half of the savages are squaws and their children and a more repulsive and hideous mass of humanity never crowded in an emigrant sleeper before.

The Republican prints crop reports to-day from which it appears that the pasturage in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas is in bad condition. The fall sowing of wheat is much delayed on account of the drought. The corn prospects are better. Missouri and Kansas have better crops than Illinois.

Chief of Police Halloran, of East St. Louis, to-day sent further inquiries to the sheriff of the county where Arthur Arthbutknot, the confessed murderer of the late ex Mayor Bowman, is imprisoned. The general opinion prevails here that Arthbutknot is a crank.

Emma Abbott as Linda.

Emma Abbott and her famous company will appear in one of her greatest roles, that of Linda, at the Temple to-night. In no other part does Emma Abbott appear to greater advantage and no other opera in her repertory requires so large a cast. Besides Emma Abbott, the young and handsome Spanish tenor will make her first appearance here, and Miss Annandale will sing her great role. Pruette Broderick and the entire company all appear at their best.

The merits of the party have been extolled for a week so it is unnecessary to repeat. The cast includes such clever people as Alida Varena, Marie Hindle, Lizzie Annandale, Bertha Fricke, Fernando Michelena, Agostino Montegriffo, Robert Beaumont, Wm. Pruette, Robert Maurel, Wm. Broderick, Walter Allen, Robert Ward, Signor Tomasi. To-morrow night Emma Abbott will appear in her greatest role of Virginia, in "Paul and Virginia."

Miss Grace Gorham is entertaining her friend, Miss Short, of Cleveland.

Emma Abbott, her maid and her husband, E. T. Wetherell, are registered at the Aveline house.

Johnny Shuster, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad shops, is the happy daddy of a new girl baby. Father and child doing well.

Albert Claypool and Viola Price, Wm. E. Middlefield and Jessie Van Zant, Warren Smitley and Leolah Houser, W. H. Gordon and Sophia Meier have been licensed to wed.

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning a large section of the bank of the Wabash and Erie canal was blown out by dynamite, at a point fifteen miles west of this city. The crime was probably instigated by the recent removal of the bridges over the canal between Wabash and Lagro by the Wabash Hydraulic company, who are owners of the canal bed. The explosion caused the water to run out of the canal and operations were nearly suspended in Thompson & Son's flouring mill. The break was repaired to-day.

The Second Day of the Inter-
State Fair Marked by Fine
Weather and Brightest Prospects.

The second day of the Inter-State fair, Fort Wayne's great and justly popular annual exposition, opened again this morning under the most auspicious circumstances. The sky was cloudless, the air cool and bracing, and the ground and turf moist enough to prevent much dust, but still not too damp, from the recent rains. The crowd in attendance this afternoon is larger than it has ever been on any preceding Wednesday during its five years of successful existence and progress. The exhibits are in better shape and all the preparations are entirely complete.

THE AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENT DISPLAY.

In the agricultural implement department the supply of machines is large and varied. All the buildings are filled with useful exhibits. Steam was turned on in power hall at an early hour this morning. A large number of traction engines are on the ground and the general display in this interesting department will be found tally as attractive as it has always proved in former years. The department has been so well arranged that the usual overcrowded condition of the space allotted has been avoided, which is considered a great advantage by visitors who wish to see the implement and carriage displays at their leisure. At the same time the secretary's books show that more space has been taken in this department this year than ever before in the history of the fair.

THE MAIN BUILDING.

In the main hall the work of arranging the exhibits is completed and everything is in excellent shape for visitors. In the textile fabrics department will be found, this year, a large number of articles interesting to the members of the fair sex. The display of crazy quilts alone is enough to hold the attention for several hours. Some of those wonderful kaleidoscopes of cloth and color are very elaborate and absolutely bewildering in their multiplicity of scraps of embroidery and shades of color. Here the merchants show their wares and no finer exhibit was ever made. The display of carpets and other articles are well worth particular inspection.

ART HALL.

The entire length of the building is very light and admirably adapted to show off the pictures to good advantage. The fair sex is also well represented in this collection, which includes some admirable work in crayon and pastels.

FLORAL HALL, ETC.

A feature of the grounds this year is the large number of booths and private pavilions erected for separate or individual displays. They are scattered on various parts of the grounds and will prove of much interest. The display of flowers and plants is unusually large and varied.

LIVE STOCK.

It is only simple justice to say that the live stock display this year is the finest ever seen in the west. Breeders from all parts of the country have sent in their prize cattle, hogs and sheep. The large and spacious building south of the grand hall has been added to by the erection of sheds containing 100 stalls and still the demand for space could not be accommodated.

NOTES.

It is a magnificent exhibition.

The poultry show beats the record.

The railroads expect a great crowd from abroad.

Everybody wants a complimentary ticket to the fair.

The whirling swing that graced Harrison street, is on the grounds.

Ex-Marshall Christ Kelly has charge of the fair ground police force.

King Rene, the $50,000 horse, trots with a running mate this afternoon.

A cow which gave birth to seven calves within 700 days is among the curiosities. Her calves are with her.

The horse with the long mane is marvelous and even more wonderful than the bills describe.

The balloon race will be a big card. The crowd began to assemble at the fair grounds before noon to-day.

The largest steer in the world and the smallest cow are on exhibition and are objects of great curiosity. The steer was born in Ohio, is over six feet high, twelve feet from nose to point of hip, and weighs over 4,000 pounds. The cow, which easily walks under the steer, is a Teeswater cow imported from Scotland.

They are both the property of J. K. McGregor, of Ripley, Ohio.

"It's a daisy" and everybody says so. There are great horses entered and the rivalry points to pretty fast work on the track.

Beer is sold under the grand stand. The fair management did not sell liquor privileges, only pop and such. They are trying to stop the traffic.

Mr. Keator's bird wonder is exhibited at the fair. Mr. Keator sent the curiosity into fame through the Gazette. Mr. Mann owns the wonder and is making a nice thing out of it.

Professor Hogan, of Jackson, Michigan, arrived yesterday and at once began preparations for a double balloon ascension to-morrow afternoon. Prof. Hogan will ascend in the large balloon, while his assistant will use the smaller float. The large balloon is the same which carried up a two horse wagon at Jackson, and landed it in a neighboring county. The balloon ascension and the rest of the program will be carried out exactly as advertised.

LOCAL CHAT.

Picked up in the Villages About us.

Owing to the competition from natural gas, the Brazil coal trade is dull, and lower rates are threatened.

Rev. James McKee, of Thomasville, Ga., has given $10,000 to the trustees of Hanover College towards endowing a new professorship.

The ladies of St. Joseph, Elkhart, LaPorte and Kosciusko counties are agitating the question of constructing a permanent orphan's home at Elkhart.

There is to be a soldiers' reunion at Spencer, Wednesday, the speakers being Hon. W. R. Myers, Hon. C. C. Matson, Hon. John Coburn and Hon. Ira J. Chase.

Hiram McCray, of Kendallville, has been nominated as the republican candidate for representative from Noble county, vice Dr. S. T. Williams, declined.

Valentine Stillabower lost carp to the value of $200 at the Shelbyville fair by putting them in Blue river water, which had been tainted by sloop from the distillery.

Senator Benjamin Harrison will speak at Columbus Sept. 17; Muncie, 18; Lebanon, 21; Lafayette, 22 (night); Flora, 23; Delphi, 23 (night); Goodland, 24; Logansport, 25.

At Lafayette yesterday, Editor Joseph B. Chandle, of the Frankfort Banner, was nominated for congress by the republicans of the Ninth district, after eighty-six ballots.

George McDowell, the fourteen-year-old son of the Wells county recorder, accidentally shot himself in the right arm while cleaning a loaded revolver. The surgeons failed to extract the bullet.

Hon. Henry G. Thayer, of Plymouth positively declines to accept the republican nomination for congressman in the thirteenth district, but the sentiment in his favor still continues strong, nevertheless.

Nearly all the state papers are printing the name of the republican candidate for secretary of state as Charles L. Griffin, whereas it should be Charles F. Griffin, his full name being Charles Fremont Griffin.

A horse driven by John H. O'Neal, democratic candidate for congress, and his wife, ran away at Washington yesterday afternoon, throwing out Mr. and Mrs. O'Neal and dangerously injuring both. Mrs. O'Neal's injuries may prove fatal.

Dory Biddle, editor of the Anderson Daily Bulletin, was severely assaulted last Friday by Ed. P. Dailey, deputy prosecutor. Biddle was in a saloon when Dailey came up behind and struck Biddle a terrible blow in the face, and then escaped by a back door. The trouble grew out of an item in the Bulletin.

Hon. C. Cowgill, of Wabash has been appointed trustee of the bonds of the Wabash water company, just issued, to the amount of $140,000, and placed with the Farmer's Loan and Trust company, New York. The works, it is now thought, will be in readiness for operation by June, 1887, though the contract gives the company until September 1 for their completion.

Charles Tribble, living near Elma Green, Kosciusko county, has brought to Wabash specimens of flower pots bricks, etc., made of a clay closely resembling kaolin, which he found on his farm. The deposit is closely worked, and when permitted to dry, becomes as hard as stone, and bricks and vessels manufactured of it when struck give forth a clear, ringing sound like porcelain.

BRADY!

Is at Washington for Revenge.

The Secretary of the Treasury Makes the Big Bond Call of an Indefinite Character.

Cholera is Spreading in Austria
and People Die Instantly
From It.

Another Bond Call.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A call for 15,000,000 three per cent. bonds will probably be issued from the treasury to-day.

What is commonly known as voluntary bond call, offering to redeem uncalled three per cent. bonds to the amount of ten million dollars, if presented before September 15th, has been so modified as to offer to redeem until further notice all three per cent. bonds presented at the treasury.

General T. J. Brady has made his appearance in Washington, with the avowed purpose of exposing the republican leaders in the Florida electoral job of 1875.

Cholera Spreading.

London, Sept. 15.—Cholera is gaining ground in Austria. It is worse at Lyrie, a village near Agrim. Of the 900 inhabitants of that village ninety have been stricken, and twenty-eight died almost immediately.

A Coffee Panic.

New York, noon, Sept. 15.—There has not been much excitement at the Coffee Exchange up to this hour, the market, however, presents a very strong appearance and trading is fairly active.

Another Yacht Race.

New York, Sept. 15.—The yacht Puritan was entered to-day for a race for the citizens cup, to be sailed off Newport Saturday. The Galatea and Mayflower are also entered for the same race.

A Fatal Explosion.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 15.—An explosion occurred in the mixing building of the zylonite works at Adams, about 11:30 last night, by which the building was demolished and Ambrose J. Jenks and Charles Kimball, night workmen, were killed.

A BIG BLAZE.

A $4,000 Fire in Aboit Township this Morning.

This morning at 10 o'clock a fire started in the finest stable of J. B. Schoene, in Aboit township. The flames spread from the barn to an old school house, used as a grainery, and it as well as other adjoining sheds, were speedily eaten into ashes.

The fire was so fierce that nothing was saved and not even a blooded Jersey bull could be rescued. The groans of the animal as he roared alive were terrible to listen to.

Besides this, 360 bushels of wheat, a big lot of hay, a new binder, just purchased from Capt. Scott Swann, as well as the other farming implements, harness, etc., burned up.

Nothing but heaps of ashes mark the scene of the blaze, and Mr. Schoene loses fully $4,000 with not a penny of insurance. Rudy C. Reinwald and his mother and father, of this city, were visiting Mr. Schoene at the time of the fire, but the efforts of these gentlemen avail not against the elements. Mr. Reinwald related to us the particulars and believes the fire originated in combustion in the overheated and moist hay-loft.

FRIGHTFUL DEATH.

A Babe is Scalded in Boiling Water.

This afternoon Helen, the one-year-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Speller, of No. 341 Hanna street, tumbled into a tub of boiling water and was scalded to death. The flesh literally dropped from the child's bones and there was untold grief at the house. Speller is a brickmaker. Dr. J. M. Dinneen, the coroner, was summoned.

Judge Heach has adjourned court until Friday.

A large tract of land near Decatur, Indiana, lately reclaimed by drainage, swarms with rattlesnakes to such a degree that stock cannot graze upon it.

NICKEL PLATE HORROR.

The Wreck Described by an Eye
Witness.

BUFFALO, N. Y. Sept. 14.—There are various causes given for the collision. Engineer William Harris of the freight train is blamed. It is said he had orders to meet the excursion train at Irving. He failed to obey the instructions and was running at full speed when the crash occurred. The train men will not talk regarding who is to blame. A gentleman who was on the train says the freight train had orders to go to Silver Creek and the passenger train to Irving, which is this side, and it was these orders that caused the collision. The excitement of many of the survivors was intense. The scenes in the smoker was most harrowing.

The first warning given was a slight jar caused by the heavy pressure of the air brakes, when some of the passengers braced themselves in their seats, seemingly apprehensive of danger. Then came a terrible shock, followed by the smashing of windows and the wails of bleeding and struggling humanity. Men covered with blood were locked in each other's arms, while underneath them and on all sides lay the poor unfortunates who were instantly killed. The wounded crawled out of the debris and were aided to reach a neighboring house. People brought bedding, etc., on which to lay the dead and dying and did all they could to relieve the sufferings of the wounded until the arrival of medical aid.

Mrs. J. H. Sigel, of Erie, Pa., a passenger, was on her way to Buffalo. She arrived safely this afternoon. In an interview, Mrs. Sigel said: "I was in the first coach next to the smoking car. The passenger train was a large one and carried a large number of excursionists, as well as regular passengers. The first we knew of the accident was a terrific crash, like an explosion. Nobody was hurt except those in the smoking car. The sight was so horrible I could not look at it. Not a single car was thrown from the track, but the smoker was completely telescoped. It was a mercy that our car was not crushed also."

One young man in the smoker saved himself by dropping on the floor and escaped with but a few bruises. I did not learn the cause of the accident, but we were going very slow while the freight was coming at a high rate of speed. We were just one coach length off the trestle when the collision occurred. Some of the wounded were taken to different houses and one of the coaches was turned into a hospital. In another coach the dead were placed. Most of the excursionists remained at Silver Creek, intending to return home. The regular passengers for Buffalo and other points came up this afternoon on another train.

Body Snatchers Arrested.

TOLEDO, Sept. 15.—Farmer Bowen, father of the girl whose body was stolen from the grave by Wilson, a medical student, and Dr. Blaine, his preceptor, of Bellevue, came to Toledo, identified the body and took it back for burial. Before coming here he swore out warrants for their arrest, charging them with grand larceny in stealing an expensive silk dress in which his daughter was robbed for burial and which has not yet been found. To-day Wilson was taken back to the scene of the outrage. Both he and Blaine had their preliminary examination to-day and were bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

Republican Nominations.

DECATUR, Ind., Sept. 15.—The republican senatorial, representative and judicial conventions for the counties of Jay, Adams and Blackford met at Portland, Ind., and placed in nomination the following ticket: Hon. B. G. Shinn, of Blackford, joint senator for Adams, Jay and Blackford counties; B. W. Sholtz, of Adams, joint representative for Jay, Adams and Blackford; Dr. J. G. Ross, of Jay, for joint representative of Adams and Jay; P. B. Manley, prosecutor for the Twenty-sixth judicial district. The districts are largely democratic, with no show for an election.

An Old Citizen Dead.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Gordon S. Hubbard, the oldest resident of Chicago, and one of the first of white pioneers to visit the present site of this city, died here this forenoon. He first landed here in 1818.

Gored to Death by a Bull.

LAPORTE, Ind., Sept. 15.—Seth M. Loomis, a prominent farmer and stock raiser of this county, was killed by being gored to death in the abdomen yesterday, by a vicious bull. The deceased leaves a large family.

DES MOINES, Sept. 15.—The mayor of Brooklyn, Iowa has wired here for assistance. He says the entire business portion of the town is burning up.

LATER.

By noon the fire was under control. Loss, $75,000.

BUFFALO, N. Y. Sept. 15.—The ice houses and out buildings of the Lake View brewery, burned this morning. The loss, covered by insurance, is $58,000. Four firemen were injured by the falling of a floor, but not seriously.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Sept. 15.—One of the Grand Haven Lumber company's mills burned early this morning. Loss, $30,000; insurance, $27,000.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—Last night fire broke out in Ezekiel A. Bernham's auction and storage ware rooms at 134 Main street and caused damage amounting to $10,000 to the building and furniture store therein. Fully insured.

THE MARKETS.

New York, Sept. 15.—Wheat, 1@10 lower, heavy and irregular, with a fair corn, 1@2 red Sept., 86c@86 1/2c. Corn, 1@10 lower and heavy, at 50c 51c. Oats, dull and a shade lower at 32c@40c.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Wheat, lower, at 75c. Corn, weak and lower at 38c. Oats, easy at 25c.

They Are Daisies.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 15.—The Taylor brothers, rival candidates for governor of Tennessee, occupied the same room in a hotel at Chattanooga, where they entertained their friends, on Sunday evening, with familiar melodies on violins.

The Fort Wayne correspondent telegraphs the Indianapolis Journal that this ticket will be nominated by the republicans next Saturday: Clerk, George H. Wilson; auditor, Christian Tresselt; recorder, Capt. J. H. Richan; sheriff, Daniel L. Harding; judge of the superior court, John Morris; senator, Herman A. Schumann; commissioner, Colonel Whitaker; surveyor, Henry E. Fisher. The telegram, which seems to be inspired at the Gazette office, and by Chairman Wilson, says that T. W. Blair will oppose Colonel McDonald, and C. A. Bookwalter Mr. Beach. This ticket will disappoint a good many republicans who are avowed candidates for the places named.

Dr. Blado, No. 31 East Main street, eye and ear surgeon, was visited by a SEXTON representative this morning and found his waiting room well filled with people anxious to consult him. The doctor has gained a wide reputation, as an oculist and aurist and the people recognize his professional ability. Owing to the large and increasing business, which has required him being in his office constantly, that in duty to himself, he will limit his office hours from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and 1 to 5 p. m. Residence No. 74 Lewis street.

Newspaper Enterprise.

Senator Ben Harrison delivers the opening speech of the campaign at the Grand opera house in Indianapolis to-night. The Gazette has made arrangements to have the entire address telegraphed direct from the stage to Fort Wayne over three wires. Manager Perry has been busy "cutting in" so as to make three direct connections with Indianapolis.

The publication of the speech in Fort Wayne the morning after its delivery in Indianapolis, shows commendable enterprise on the part of the Gazette proprietors.

A QUESTION ABOUT Brown's Iron Bitters ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure any disease?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe it. Brown's Iron Bitters is not a medicine, but a food. It is a food which contains iron, and iron is the most important element in the human body. It is the element which builds up the blood, and the blood is the life of the body. If the blood is weak, the body is weak. If the blood is strong, the body is strong. Brown's Iron Bitters is a food which builds up the blood, and therefore it builds up the body. It is a food which is easy to digest, and it is a food which is pleasant to eat. It is a food which is sold in every drug store, and it is a food which is sold in every grocery store. It is a food which is sold in every hotel, and it is a food which is sold in every restaurant. It is a food which is sold in every country, and it is a food which is sold in every city. It is a food which is sold in every town, and it is a food which is sold in every village. It is a food which is sold in every hamlet, and it is a food which is sold in every cottage. It is a food which is sold in every house, and it is a food which is sold in every family. It is a food which is sold in every nation, and it is a food which is sold in every world. It is a food which is sold in every age, and it is a food which is sold in every sex. It is a food which is sold in every race, and it is a food which is sold in every color. It is a food which is sold in every religion, and it is a food which is sold in every creed. It is a food which is sold in every sect, and it is a food which is sold in every denomination. It is a food which is sold in every church, and it is a food which is sold in every synagogue. It is a food which is sold in every mosque, and it is a food which is sold in every temple. It is a food which is sold in every altar, and it is a food which is sold in every shrine. It is a food which is sold in every sanctuary, and it is a food which is sold in every temple. It is a food which is sold in every church, and it is a food which is sold in every synagogue. It is a food which is sold in every mosque, and it is a food which is sold in every temple. It is a food which is sold in every altar, and it is a food which is sold in every shrine. It is a food which is sold in every sanctuary, and it is a food which is sold in every temple.

The total produce was 1,467,423 bushels of wheat, 30,222,795 bushels of corn; potatoes, 3,175,738 tons; turnips, 3,551,783 tons; beet-root, 499,730 tons; cabbages, 397,708 tons; meadow and clover grass, 4,156,095 tons.

A VERMIN exterminator of Boston recently offered to clear a large brewery of a vast quantity of flies which had collected by the millions in the beer hogsheads, for $250. The proprietor agreed to the terms and the man went to work. "Roll these barrels into the ice-room," he said. The barrels were rolled into the room where ice was made. "Freeze 'em!" said the vermin exterminator. The brewery men were surprised that they had not thought of that simple remedy. They tried it, and in a short time swept out countless numbers of frozen flies.

According to the calculations made by a scientific writer, it requires a prodigious amount of vegetable matter to form a layer of coal, the estimate being that it would really take a million years to form a coal bed 100 feet thick. The United States has an area of between 300,000 and 400,000 square miles of coal fields, 100,000,000 tons of coal being mined from these fields in one year, or enough to run a ring around the earth at the equator five and one-half feet wide and five and one-half thick, the quantity being sufficient to supply the whole world for the period of 1,500 to 2,000 years.

The late Mr. Tilden was celebrated for his chivalry. One day, shortly before his last illness, a young girl called to see his niece. Mr. Tilden came into the room and insisted upon her remaining to dinner. Her seat was beside the host, and there were several guests present, all in elaborate dinner costume and adorned with beautiful flowers. When Mr. Tilden noticed that his young friend had no corsage bouquet, he quietly gave orders that flowers be brought. The servant soon appeared with a bunch of exquisite flowers, more beautiful than any at the table, and Mr. Tilden handed them to the young girl with one of the charming speeches for which he was famous.

So impetuous youth is often given to folly and indiscretions; and as a result, nervous, mental and organic debility follow, memory is impaired, self-confidence is lacking; at night bad dreams occur, premature old age seems setting in, ruin is in the track. In confidence, you can, and should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the author of a treatise for the benefit of that class of patients, and describe your symptoms and sufferings. He can cure you at your home, and will send you full particulars by mail.

For over a quarter of a century Physicians have prescribed NICHOLS' BARK AND LION, as a reliable and valuable remedy for dyspepsia and general debility.

MR. JOHN FITZGERALD, the new President of the Irish League, was born near Glin, a romantic little town famous in the days of the Desmonds, in the western part of Limerick County, Ireland, about fifty-five years ago, and came to America fifteen or sixteen years later. He sought in Wisconsin and Minnesota for the land where manly toil surely reaps the crop it sows, and, without unnecessary delay, set himself to the hard work which usually falls to the hands of an unfriended immigrant. He was a lad of energy and push. Railroad building was the principal occupation of the newly-arrived Irishman. He laid ties and rails at the current daily wages for a few months, advanced to the position of foreman before out of his teens, and was a contractor for building railroads when he had attained his majority. His success was remarkable. He built a large portion of the Northwestern road and its branches, and later laid many miles of track and ties of the Union Pacific. At that time he resided in Wisconsin. As the Pacific road advanced westward he moved to Nebraska, where he began to experiment as a farmer and cattle-raiser with profit and advantage. He continued in his business as contractor, however, and, growing rich, of course, became a banker. He is now President of the First National Bank of Lincoln, Nebraska, also President of a bank at Plattsmouth. He owns several extensive farms in Minnesota, Nebraska, and Colorado, and three or four herds of fancy cattle, and has a couple of well-stocked ranches, besides. He is reputed to be worth $5,000,000—the reward of close attention to business and careful industry. He is a strict Roman Catholic and a munificent supporter of the numerous charities connected with his Church. In politics he is a Democrat of the old school, and was a delegate at large from his State to the Democratic National Convention two years ago. He has been connected with all the Irish patriotic movements of this country since he attained to manhood. He is an ardent disciple of Father Mathew.

The Voice of the People.

The people, as a whole, seldom make mistakes and the unanimous voice of praise which comes from those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, fully justifies the claims of the proprietors of this great medicine. Indeed, these very claims are based entirely on what the people say Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for them. Read the abundant evidence of its curative powers, and give it a fair, honest trial.

We have been looking for the cholera in this country for the past two years, because, like the course of empire, the scourge has always been supposed to march westward, but to the surprise of the experts the disease in Europe moved to the east, reappearing in Italy after having ravaged Spain last year. But the danger of its importation through our Mediterranean trade is as great now as ever, and there is need of constant vigilance both at our ports of entry and in preserving sanitary conditions in our large towns. Sporadic cases occur every year in different parts of the country, but are not regarded as cause for alarm.

Mr. M. P. SCHROCK, 672 W. Lake St., Chicago, was afflicted with the cholera, and in two days was cured.

A professor in a medical college once said to his class "put your hand in a vice, turn the screw until the pain is all you can bear, and that's rheumatism; turn the screw once more, and that's neuralgia; and gentlemen, the medical profession knows no cure for either. That was before the discovery of ATHLOPHOROS, which does and will cure rheumatism and neuralgia, and many other cases of nerve pain. It is a remedy that they can use it resolutely—graciously admitting that they can prescribe nothing else so effective. Many persons have tried so many so-called remedies, without benefit, that they have lost faith to try more, but it is worth your while to try ATHLOPHOROS. If you have any doubts as to its value write for names of parties in your own State who have been cured by its use. Ask your druggist for Athlophoros. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed, ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 WALL ST., NEW YORK

THE SWIMMING BATH.

HOW WOMEN LEARN TO SWIM IN SALT WATER.

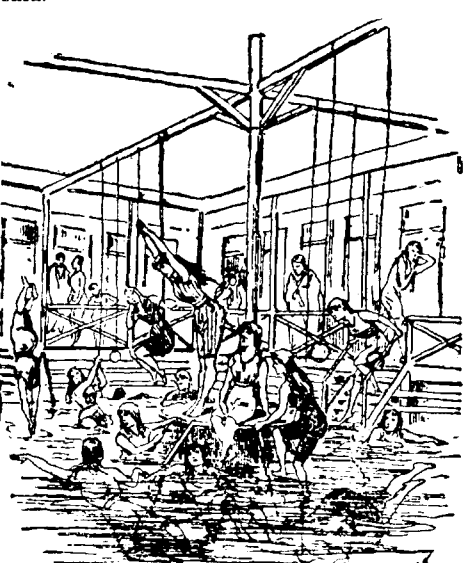

One of New York's Summer Attractions. Notarial Recreation at the Battery. Some Reflections on the Cause of Old Age—Gray-Haired Swimmers.

[Special Correspondence.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—New York city is not wholly without attractions in the summer. Among them are the swimming baths. If these were only to accommodate men, they would be lacking in interest, for men can swim in any sort of a pond, sheltered or unsheltered—even in the "dirty pool of politics." But swimming is a comparatively new art for women, and, as yet, needs various helps and comforts to make it alluring.

The swimming bath which I patronize is down on the Battery, just below Castle Garden. The way thither is not beguiling, although the fresh air from the sea meets one, and Battery park is fine in its summer foliage. The numerous emigrant is the unpleasant feature of the trip. He is there in all his native fifth, smoking pipes with odors strong enough to take the breath from a hackman. His children are there, vilely dirty and scantily clothed. His wife is there, very dirty, also, and somewhat hungry-looking. The park's benches are always full of these new candidates for fortune in the land of the free. They are not inspiring objects to look upon, and a sensitive person feels their atmosphere of dejection and misery.

A little bridge leads across to the bath, a long, boat-like house in the water, which is evenly divided into a swimming bath for men and one for women. Hot-salt water baths are also a feature of this very useful institution. This boat-like house on the waters arrives at the Battery on the 1st of June, and, securing its summer's privileges there by paying a running rent to the authorities, it opens its doors to the public at 25 cents a bath, ten cents extra for a bathing suit, and a hot bath for 40 cents.

During the month of June it isn't very well patronized, but through July and August everybody bathes, and bathes often. The baths are open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night, electric light helping on the glorious work after dark. The women's bath is conducted by women, office work and all. The bath is about thirty feet wide and forty long. On three sides it has a double row of dressing rooms, for it is a two-story structure. Little galleries run all around it, from which steps lead down into the water. Horizontal and perpendicular ropes are here and there ready to be grabbed, and cross pieces on the corners make little pens for the timid to splash around in and feel safe. In the center of the pool is a little round platform reached by steps going up out of the water. Thereon the boldest of the fair climb and then drop recklessly into the water again, coming down with a great splash, exciting the admiration of the less daring and coming up twenty feet away with red faces and blowing like porpoises, "quite like men," as a little girl said.

WITHIN THE SWIMMING BATH.

The picture just given represents a nymph making a leap from the platform in the center, another flying head first from the steps, and a third taking a running jump from another step, while in the water may be seen a whole school of bathers. Observe the costume universally worn. It is sensible and beautiful, and destitute of that horrible appendage, a skirt, which hampers the movements and adds to the ugliness of women who bathe at seaside resorts. Here the costume is a snug, sleeveless garment cut to fit the body, and covering it only from the neck to the knees. Nor is it any more indecent than a skirted costume, for it covers the form enough to preserve the decency and even the delicacy, and allows perfect freedom of movement. Imagine a woman learning to swim in skirts.

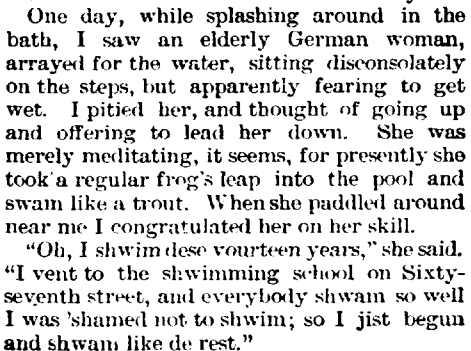

After several visits to this bath I made up my mind that clothes contribute largely not only to the appearance of age, but to the feeling of age. Gray-haired and withered women looked like young girls in these bathing costumes, and disported themselves with a grace and energy characteristic of youth. They forgot their years when the garments that represented them were laid aside. What a pity they could not be permitted to wear such clothing as would enable them to forget it all the time! How persistently our costumes and customs enforce age upon women. A woman in her forties stepped gayly out of her dressing room in a blue flannel bath suit that made a child of her at once. "Why, I don't feel a bit more than 10 years old," she said, in a delighted tone, with a face all aglow at the precious few moments of freedom from conventional clothes that was just then ahead of her. She didn't look more than 14, at most. She had a delicate and extremely girlish figure, with dainty, white, childlike arms, and a face that had something of the expression, as well as the roundness, of childhood in it still. By and by, when the bath was over, and she was arrayed in her long skirt, bustle and bonnet, and the dignity of her station, she looked her "30 odd" years to a day. Yes, I am sure that dress is the worst enemy women have to fight. It is the most active agent in making them old. We are suffering from too much civilization.

Many good swimmers are among the bathers. They paddle about quite at their ease, cheering and encouraging the timid. Any one chats with her nearest neighbor if she feels like it, and the neighbor replies unhesitatingly. Here, too, the absence of the conventional garments has wrought a good result. It has removed the constraint which curses women when they are thrown together in an informal way. In the costume of the bath they act quite like men, and indulge in no foolishness in the way of drawing lines. Everybody is the equal of everybody else while in the water. After they are arrayed in their street clothes they become prim and rigid again, looking well to the "lines" as drawn by the fad caste.

The next picture represents the swimming teacher with a pupil in tow. Ordinarily the rope is held in front of the swimmer, and is the main agent, in the early stages of the art, of keeping her head out of the water. Only an advanced pupil has the rope fastened at her back. Then she is truly at sea, for if she becomes panic stricken she has nothing to clutch at but the unsubstantial atmosphere and the uncongenial water. The teacher, herself a nautical adept, calls out: "Push out more to the sides with your feet; paddle slowly with your arms; feet down; down; keep your arms up; head down," and other mandatory instructions. The pupil struggles, claws at the water, gasps, but persists, and is frequently graduated with honors.

One young girl who swam well told me that she taught herself this season by hanging about the steps, without a teacher. Finally she gained confidence, launched out, and found that she could swim as well as any one. One day, while splashing around in the bath, I saw an elderly German woman, arrayed for the water, sitting disconsolately on the steps, but apparently fearing to get wet. I pitied her, and thought of going up and offering to lead her down. She was merely meditating, it seems, for presently she took a regular frog's leap into the pool and swam like a trout. When she paddled around near me I congratulated her on her skill.

"Oh, I swim since fourteen years," she said. "I went to the swimming school on Sixty-seventh street, and everybody swam so well I was ashamed not to swim; so I just began and swam like de rest."

THE SWIMMING TEACHER.

One woman swam for half an hour with a baby boy of three years clinging to her neck all the time. Another woman showed me a handsome ring on her hand and said: "I lost this ring when I was in the water last Saturday, and today I went over in the corner where I had lost it, hunted for it with my feet, found it, and picked it up with my toes. Wasn't that wonderful? It is my wedding ring, too."

Some very lovely girls are seen in this bath sometimes. I have noticed, too, that it takes an exceptionally handsome girl to look well in the water. The hair gets wet and stringy, and faces, fair as water lilies at other times, get red and rather ugly looking. But all these drawbacks are atoned for by the fresh beauty of the bathers after the bath is over. Her eyes are bright as jewels, and her color fresh and lovely, and for a few hours, at least, she feels as if she had been made over.

When Oct. 1 arrives our swimming bath is hatched to a tug and pulled over to a boat hospital in Brooklyn, there to remain until the flowers bloom again in the spring.

CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood by most physicians, it is instantly assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly relieves the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box Catarrh Solvent and an Improved Inhaler, price, $1.

The Horn Family Reunion.

On Saturday, Sept. 11th, there assembled in a fine grove on the banks of the St. Joe river, in Springfield township, Allen county, Indiana, a large company composed largely of the Horn family, one of the oldest and best families of this community. Representatives of the family from Ohio were present, and a few invited guests from among the neighbors. The day was pleasant, the program well arranged and the dinner superb. The address of welcome was delivered by Mr. Ezra Horn and responded to by the pastor of the Lutheran church. After which the younger members of the family rendered some beautiful music. A letter was read from a sister in the east, which breathed forth love, greetings and regrets. At noon the company to the number of at least one hundred, sat down to a table groaning under the load of good things, and did simple justice to the rich feast. After spending a few hours in social conversation, the exercises were resumed, which consisted of music, essays, recitations and addresses by the pastor, and by a number of the friends. Some of these addresses were full of feeling and many times during their delivery, the whole audience wept. But perhaps, one of the most touching incidents of the occasion, was the closing hymn, entitled "When shall We Meet Again," sung by the old people, the fathers and mothers in the family. Some of them are quite aged, and undoubtedly felt that their next reunion would take place in heaven. All together the day was pleasantly and we believe profitably spent, and will always be recalled with great pleasure. PASTOR.

COLONEL WATSON writes from Switzerland to the effect that every prospect pleases and that only the women are lonely. He says: "The stranger in Switzerland will be struck at once by the beauty of the country and the ugliness of the women. Here nature seems to have spent herself upon inanimate objects and to have had no material left for humanity, which she composed out of the debris left over after she had constructed a scene. A pretty face, naïf and to the manner born, is rarely, if ever, seen upon the streets of Berne. The women appear to do all the work. It is not unusual to see a girl and a dog hitched to a cart, and trotting along together like a pair of ponies. The men, great strapping fellows, idle and lazy, loaf about the brasseries. Their wives, daughters and sisters fill the fields and supply the markets. But there is nothing to which the Swiss woman may not turn her hand, from milking a goat to sawing a cord of wood and drawing a load of hay. She is put to work in her childhood, and before she reaches her maturity she looks like a grandmother, wrinkled and weather-beaten, bent and care worn."

My wife was suffering terrible from rheumatism when she began using Atholpines. Before she had finished taking the first bottle the pain commenced to leave her and she could walk about the house. Wm. W. Griffith, Fourteenth and Smead streets, Loganport, Ind.

GOVERNMENT TESTS.

The Royal Baking Powder Declared Superior to all Others.

The fact that Royal Baking Powder is, in all respects, the best baking powder offered to the public has been established beyond question.

Prof. H. A. Mott, when employed by the U. S. Government to analyze the various baking powders of the market to determine which was the best and most economical, after an extended investigation, reported in favor of the Royal, and it was adopted for government use.

Prof. Mott has continued his examinations of baking powders sold at the present day, and now affirms it as his deliberate judgment, arrived at after most thorough research and a careful examination of the principal brands of the market, that the Royal is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public. Prof. Mott, in his recent report, says:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the U. S. Government.

"I will go still further and state that, because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

A Prominent Californian.

The San Francisco Daily Examiner of Sept. 4th, says of conspicuous figures in the California democratic state convention: "Nicholas Moritz, of Alameda, who handled Hendrick's fight for secretary of state and won it eventually, is a medium sized man of striking appearance, dark eyes and black mustache and a strong air of determination to his features. His fight for the man from Butte was a strong one and well conducted." Mr. Moritz is an old resident of California and a brother of J. M. Moritz, one of the proprietors of the Aveline house, in this city. In nominating Mr. Hendricks, whom Mr. Moritz supported so successfully, this was said:

"The name of the candidate from Butte county for the high office of secretary of the state is not unfamiliar to you, either in state or in national fame. I refer to the Hon. William C. Hendricks, of Butte county. He is not a Missourian, but a Hoosier, born in Indiana, and his blood comes from that man [pointing to the picture of Hendricks] who carried the banner of Indiana on to victory two years ago, who, in his sixty-third year, was not too old to reclaim the state, when we needed her to throw the balance of power in favor of the national democratic party."

The agricultural statistics of Ireland for 1893 show that the total acreage under crop was 4,965,127 acres, of which 1,691,968 acres were under corn, beans, and peas; 797,206 acres of potatoes; 296,941 acres of turnips; 108,147 acres of flax, and 2,634,768 acres under meadow and clover grass. The total produce was 1,467,423 bushels of wheat, 30,222,735 bushels of corn; potatoes, 3,175,738 tons; turnips, 3,501,785 tons; beet-root, 140,740 tons; cabbages, 397,705 tons; meadow and clover grass, 1,156,095 tons.

A vermin exterminator of Boston recently offered to clear a large brewery of a vast quantity of flies which had collected by the millions in the beer hoppers, for $250. The proprietor agreed to the terms and the man went to work. "I'll tell these barrels into the river," he said. The barrels were rolled into the river where ice was made. "Freeze 'em!" said the vermin exterminator. The brewery men were surprised that they had not thought of this simple remedy. They tried it, and in a short time swept out countless numbers of frozen flies.

According to the calculations made by a scientific writer, it requires a prodigious amount of vegetable matter to form a layer of coal. The estimate being that it would really take a million years to form a coal bed 100 feet thick. The United States has an area of between 200,000 and 400,000 square miles of coal fields, 100,000,000 tons of coal being mined from these fields in one year, or enough to run a ring around the earth at the equator five and one-half feet wide and five and one-half feet thick, the quantity being sufficient to supply the whole world for the period of 1,500 to 2,000 years.

For the late Mr. Tilden was celebrated for his civility. One day, shortly before his last illness, a young girl called to see his niece. Mr. Tilden came into the room and insisted upon her remaining to dinner. Her seat was beside the host, and there were several guests present. All in elaborate dinner costume and adorned with beautiful flowers. When Mr. Tilden noticed that his young friend had no corsage brought, he quickly gave orders that flowers be brought. The servant soon appeared with a bunch of exquisite flowers, more beautiful than any at the table, and Mr. Tilden handed them to the young girl with one of the charming smiles for which he was famous.

So impetuous youth is often given to folly and indiscretion; and, as a result, nervous, mental and organic debility follow, memory is impaired, self-confidence is lacking; at night bad dreams occur, premature old age seems settling in, ruin is in the track. In confidence, you can, and should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the author of a treatise for the benefit of the class of patients, and describe your symptoms and sufferings. He can cure you at your home, and will send you full particulars by mail.

THE SWIMMING BATH.
HOW WOMEN LEARN TO SWIM IN SALT WATER.

One of New York's Summer Attractions.
Natural Recreation at the Battery.
Some Reflections on the Cause of Old Age—Gray-Haired Swimmers.

(Special Correspondence.)
New York, Sept. 15.—New York city is not wholly without attractions in the summer. Among them are the swimming baths. If these were only to accommodate men, they would be lacking in interest, for men can swim in any sort of a pool, sheltered or unsheltered—even in the "dirty pool" of the city. But swimming is a comparatively new art for women, and, as yet, needs various helps and comforts to make it alluring.

The swimming bath which I patronize is down on the Battery, just below Castle Garden. The way thither is not beguiling, although the fresh air from the sea meets one, and the bath is in its summer foliage. The numerous emigrants is the unpleasant feature of the trip. He is there in all his native fish-smelling pipes with strong enough to take the bath from a boatman. His children are there, dirty and scarily clothed. His wife is there, very dirty, also, and somewhat homely-looking. The park benches are always full of these rambling folk for the time of the free. They are not inspiring objects to look upon, and a sensitive person feels their atmosphere of neglect and misery.

A little bridge leads across to the bath, a long, low, like house in the water, which is evenly divided into a swimming bath for men and one for women. Hot salt water baths are also a feature of this very useful institution. The bath house on the right, arriving at the Battery on the last of June, and securing to summer's privileges there by paying a round rate to the authorities, it opens its doors to the public at 10 cents a bath, less for children, and a bathing suit, and a hot bath for 30 cents.

During the month of June it isn't very well patronized, but through July and August, everybody takes it, and the bath. The bath is open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night, electric light helping on the water. The Voice of the People.

The people, as a whole, seldom make mistakes and the unanimous voice of praise which comes from those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, fully justifies the claims of this preparation of this great medicine. Indeed, there is every reason to believe that the people who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla have done for themselves the abundant evidence of its curative powers, and give it a fair, honest trial.

We have been looking for the cholera in this country for the past two years, because, like the course of empire, the scourge has always been supposed to march westward, but to the surprise of the experts the disease in Europe moved to the east, reappearing in Italy after having ravaged Spain last year. But the danger of its importation through our Mediterranean trade is as great now as ever, and there is need of constant vigilance both at our ports of entry and in preserving sanitary conditions in our large towns. Sporadic cases occur every year in different parts of the country, but are not regarded as causes for alarm.

The Horn Family Reunion.

On Saturday, Sept. 11th, there assembled in a fine grove on the banks of the St. Joe river, in Springfield township, Allen county, Indiana, a large company composed largely of the Horn family, one of the oldest and best families of this community. Representatives of the family from Ohio were present, and a few invited guests from among the neighbors. The day was pleasant, the program well arranged and the dinner superb. The address of welcome was delivered by Mr. Ezra Horn and responded to by the pastor of the Lutheran church. After which the younger members of the family rendered some beautiful music. A letter was read from a sister in the east, which breathed forth love, greetings and regrets. At about one o'clock, and down to a table groaning under the load of good things, and did ample justice to the rich feast. After spending a few hours in social conversation, the exercises were resumed, which consisted of music, essays, recitations and addresses by the pastor, and by a number of the friends. Some of these addresses were full of feeling and many times during their delivery, the whole audience wept. But perhaps, one of the most touching incidents of the occasion, was the closing hymn, entitled "When shall We Meet Again," sung by the old people, the fathers and mothers in the family. Some of them are quite aged, and undoubtedly felt that their next reunion would take place in heaven. All together the day was pleasantly and we believe profitably spent, and will always be recalled with great pleasure. Patron.

CHICAGO, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15, 1886. From Switzerland to the effect that every prospect pleases and that only the women are lonely. He says: "The stranger in Switzerland will be struck at once by the beauty of the country and the elegance of the women. Here nature seems to have spent herself upon mountains, oceans and to have had no material left for humanity, which she composed out of the debris left over after she had constructed also on scene. A pretty face, and to the manner born, is rarely, if ever, seen upon the streets of Berne. The women appear to do all the work. It is not unusual to see a girl and a dog hitched to a cart, and trotting along together like a pair of ponies. The men, great strapping fellows, idle and lazy, loaf about the brasseries. Their wives, daughters and sisters till the fields and supply the markets. But there is nothing to which the Swiss woman may not turn her hand, from milking a goat to saving a cord of wood and drawing a load of hay. She is put to work in her childhood, and before she reaches her maturity she looks like a grandmother, wrinkled and weather-beaten, bent and care worn."

My wife was suffering terribly from rheumatism when she began using Atchaphos. Before she had finished taking the first bottle the pain commenced to leave her and she could walk about the house. Wm. W. Griffith, Fourteenth and Second streets, Logansport, Ind.

GOVERNMENT TESTS.

The Royal Baking Powder Declared Superior to all Others.

The fact that Royal Baking Powder is, in all respects, the best baking powder offered to the public has been established beyond question.

Prof. H. A. Mott, when employed by the U. S. Government to analyze the various baking powders of the market to determine which was the best and most economical, after an extended investigation, reported in favor of the Royal, and it was adopted for government use.

Prof. Mott has continued his examinations of baking powders sold at the present day, and now affirms it as his deliberate judgment, arrived at after most thorough research and a careful examination of the principal brands of the market, that the Royal is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public. Prof. Mott, in his recent report, says:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the U. S. Government."

"I will go still further and state that, because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public."

A Prominent Californian.

The San Francisco Daily Examiner of Sept. 4th, says of conspicuous figures in the California democratic state convention: "Nicholas Moritz, of Alameda, who handled Hendricks' fight for secretary of state and who eventually, is a medium sized man of striking appearance, dark eyes and black mustache and a strong air of determination to his features. His fight for the man from Butte was a strong one and well conducted." Mr. Moritz is an old resident of California and a brother of J. M. Moritz, one of the proprietors of the Avellino house, in this city. In nominating Mr. Hendricks, whom Mr. Moritz supported so successfully, this was said:

"The name of the candidate from Butte county for the high office of secretary of the state is not unfamiliar to you, either in state or in national fame. I refer to the Hon. William C. Hendricks, of Butte county. He is not a Missourian, but a Hoosier, born in Indiana, and his blood comes from that man [pointing to the picture of Hendricks] who carried the banner of Indiana on to victory twenty years ago, who in his sixty-third year, was not too old to redeem the state, when we needed her to throw the balance of power in favor of the national democratic party."
